

'Were You Counted' Census Drive Starts Here

Counters
To Check
Village

Although the door-to-door U. S. Census in Palm Springs and surrounding areas is continuing, District Supervisor Vernon L. Miller today announced the beginning of a "Were you Counted?" campaign to insure that no resident of the area has been overlooked. The count by census enumerators will be continued until the "U. S. Census Bureau believes the last person has been counted," Miller said. He added that this census includes a house survey, and every house on every block must be recorded too.

STARTING FRIDAY, persons who have not been contacted as yet are asked to mail their Advance Census Report forms to the U. S. Census District Office, 1053 La Cadena, Riverside.

In addition, a special "Were You Counted?" form will be published by The Desert Sun as a public service, which can be clipped and mailed to the same address.

IT IS PROBABLE these people will be contacted by the local enumerators after the forms are mailed in, as the intensive house-to-house canvass will be continued, Miller said. But he emphasized that this is one sure way of being counted.

The importance of a complete count was stressed by the district supervisor. He pointed out that the population figures compiled in the current census must stand as official until the next Federal Census.

"FEDERAL AID funds are allotted to states, and state funds, in turn, are allotted to counties and municipalities on a per capita basis," Miller explained. "So a short count means a short allotment. Thus, it is imperative that we have a complete count. The help of every resident of the area is needed to reach this goal."

Miller, who is well acquainted with this city as he has been a visitor here for many years and who conducted the last special census in Palm Springs, explained that the count has gone slow here due to the difficulty in securing recruits at the start. "We will continue though," he said, "until everyone has been counted."

Woman Driver
Succumbs in DHS

DESERT HOT SPRINGS—Mrs. Lura Lawrence, 72, died at 3 a.m. Wednesday in her home at 66-236 Fifth Street here after long illness.

Mrs. Lawrence, who some friends think may have been the first woman to drive an automobile from the east coast to the west coast, has no known living relatives.

A native of Indiana, Mrs. Lawrence had lived in Desert Hot Springs since 1947. No public services for Mrs. Lawrence have been scheduled.

Tribute Fund Grows

Villagers Honor
Byerly's Memory

Membership of Welfare and Friendly Aid Society yesterday made individual contributions to the society's Tribute Fund in memory of Bob Byerly — in appreciation for the many years he aided the society with its Christmas toy program.

Byerly, who was known as Santa Claus' assistant in Palm Springs because of the many years he devoted to repair of toys for distribution to underprivileged children, died Tuesday night.

EVEN NOW, HIS home was crowded with toys he was repairing for distribution next Christmas by the Welfare and Friendly Aid Society.

A PLAQUE WAS INSTALLED yesterday on the Doggie Bar in front of Mill's Liquor Store in memory of Palm Springs best-known canine—"Jo Jo." The plaque reads: "In Memory of Jo Jo, 1945-1959." McGoo, an old pal of Jo Jo's, stops for a drink while his master, KDES radio announcer Don Meyers, looks over the plaque. For a complete story on the plaque and its background read "This Side of the Sun" on Page 4 today. (Desert Sun Photo).

PD REALTORS BACK OVERRIDE OF TAX

PALM DESERT — The Palm Desert Board of Realtors today adopted a resolution endorsing the tax override to provide necessary educational facilities for secondary students of Coachella Valley and Desert Center.

The election for the tax override is set for May 17.

In giving the endorsement, the board pointed out that four needs would be met:

—Building of Indio High School from a capacity of 1,200 students to 1,750-1,800.

—Increase Coachella Valley Union High School to the same capacity.

—Erect a branch high school at Eagle Mountain for 250-300 students.

—Buy building site for third high school in the Coachella Valley.

TO QUALIFY for the benefits, elderly persons will have to pay an enrollment fee of $24 a year in addition to the first $250 of costs of medical care and 20 per cent of the remaining costs.

The administration's plan was offered as a more comprehensive alternative to the labor-backed Forand bill which would expand Social Security benefits to include medical care.

TONIGHT is Piggy Bank night for more than 500 members of the Palm Springs Elks Lodge 1905 who will pour a year's savings of pennies, nickels and dimes into the Elks Cerebral Palsy fund to raise the annual contribution to the Elks National project of $1,905.

The fund will be presented to the state at the BPOE state convention this summer.

Exalted Ruler Jim Metz said that the event will be held out-of-doors with a charcoal broiled steak dinner being served from 6:30 until 10, and dancing from 9 to 1 p.m. Elks, their wives or friends are invited to attend.

Davis, who aided Chessman in his 12-year effort to escape the death penalty, said the convict author refused to disclose the identity of the real Red Light Bandit because he feared his daughter would be harmed.

Numerous articles of all types have been donated to the association.

The association operates the Palm Springs Humane Shelter at 395 Sunny Dunes Road. All proceeds from the sale will go toward the care of animals, which are held there pending placement in a good home.

Democrats Sure to Nix Medical Plan

Congress Likely To Adopt Plan With 'Self-Financing'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Democratic Congress appeared likely today to reject the big budget-boosting program of medical care for the aged proposed by the Eisenhower administration.

Key Democrats predicted Congress would wind up approving a self-financing Democratic plan that would include higher taxes to pay for at least some of the benefits.

MANY CONGRESSIONAL Democrats conceded privately that the administration had pretty well neutralized the election-year issue of medical care for the elderly by finally coming up with its own plan that would cost federal and state treasuries $1,200,000,000 a year.

Welfare Secretary Arthur S. Flemming was called back before the House Ways and Means Committee today for further questioning about the plan at a closed-door session.

A POLL OF state governors by United Press International brought varied reaction. Some Republican governors praised the proposal while some Democrats opposed it. Several governors raised the question of where the states would get funds for their share of the costs.

The administration's plan offered a wide variety of medical benefits ranging from hospitalization, nursing home care, physicians' services, dental treatment and drugs to most persons 65 and older at subsidized rates.

TO QUALIFY for the benefits, elderly persons will have to pay an enrollment fee of $24 a year in addition to the first $250 of costs of medical care and 20 per cent of the remaining costs.

The administration's plan was offered as a more comprehensive alternative to the labor-backed Forand bill which would expand Social Security benefits to include medical care.

Police Give Burglary Week Talks

Officers Deliver Tips On Taking Precautions

Palm Springs police are observing Burglary Prevention Week — this one — with a series of educational talks and distribution of leaflets designed to increase "burglar-proof" awareness of local residents.

Local Lions received the tips last Thursday, and Kiwanians got the word from detective Paul Smith Tuesday.

TIPS FOR HOME protection include:

- Use exterior lights with timing devices, to keep your home lit between dusk and retiring time

- Use pin-tumbler locks on exterior doors, and double cylinder locks requiring a key inside for glass doors; and

- Add auxiliary night latches to exterior doors.

RECAUTIONARY TIPS include:

- Notify police and neighbors before leaving for extended period of time

- Publicize your vacation time after you return;

- Stop home deliveries by phone or mail — don't advertise your absence with notes outside your home

- Leave shades up, blinds partially open when you're away; Don't admit strangers into your home without proper credentials

- Keep valuables in safe deposit boxes or storage vaults, and keep records of serial numbers, descriptions of valuables.

- The last advice — don't forget to follow through.

Palm Springs High School seniors Maria Marmolejo and Karen Hanson have been honored for citizenship and scholarship, principal Dr. Charles Webster announced.

Maria Marmolejo was given the annual good citizenship award of the national Daughters of the American Revolution for service, patriotism, leadership, and dependability. Miss Marmolejo, secretary of the senior class, president of the Palm Springs Debbs, and a Pom-Pom leader, has been a class officer and member of the Scholarship Society during her four years in high school.

Karen Hanson was awarded certificates of honor for her excellent score in the pre-college entrance test given by Immaculate Heart College, Los Angeles.

President Mary Humilata of Immaculate Heart College wrote Dr. Webster a congratulatory letter on Karen's test. Entrance honors are not a monetary scholarship.

County Fair Unaffected By New Law

Fullenwider Says Date Festival to Continue 'As Is'

INDIO — Although recent state legislation is expected to affect most of the 77 fairs held in California, it apparently will not affect the Riverside County event.

Robert Fullenwider, manager, Riverside County Fair and National Date Festival, told the Desert Sun today that at present he has no gripe about the legislation.

AIMED AT SAVING taxpayers' money, a new tight money policy set by the 1959 legislature is a mandate to the Department of Finance to watch fair spending, Don Muchmore, deputy director of finance in charge of fairs, said today.

Muchmore said the department had saved five to six million dollars in the first two years.

Fullenwider said today that "We are not concerned about the new budget coming up." He said he expected that the county fair would next year be allocated the maximum sum of $65,000 as was this year.

He said, however, that from 77 fairs, only 27 this year were allocated the full sum of $65,000.

Fullenwider based his presumption that Riverside's event would not experience a cut on the need for new facilities and for fair facilities that have never been installed and have always been lacking at the grounds in Indio.

After the 1960-61 budget, Fullenwider is not venturing a guess. He says he is assured that at present "we have no particular problem."

"IT IS AN OLD story," Fullenwider said, "the last legislature set up automatically gives $65,000 to each fair — the policy for the past 10 years."

Fullenwider said that amounts of allocations are based on need for state support.

"We need additional restrooms and better facilities, which most fairs already have," Fullenwider said, in emphasizing that Riverside County has no problem in obtaining the $65,000.

"SOME FAIRS DIDN'T get anything this year," Fullenwider commented, "while the Orange Show, the State Fair and the Los Angeles Fair are not affected by the recent legislation since they were set up on the basis of special legislation of 1933."

The fairs that didn't get anything this year couldn't show the need for state support, Fullenwider said.

FAIR OFFICIALS in the meantime, called Muchmore a "czar" who was taking away local control of the fairs.

Muchmore explained that the 1959 legislature passed legislation by Assemblyman Thomas M. Rees (D-Los Angeles) which took away the automatic $65,000 handed to most of the local fairs by the state each year.

There are 451,000 persons confined to hospitals in the U.S. on an average day, says the Health Insurance Institute.

A THEORY OF CONCERTED advertising for Palm Springs area hotels and apartments with individual identity was presented to representatives of the Hotel and Apartment Owners Association and the Palm Springs Chamber of Commerce by representatives of Sunset Magazine during a luncheon meeting at the Hotel Oasis recently. Seated, left to right, are Jimmy Cooper, manager of the Chamber of Commerce; Roland Richier, manager of the Oasis; Norman Loftus, co-chairman of the Chamber's advertising committee; and, standing from right, Dick Bristol, Southern California and Arizona manager for Sunset, and Howard Wilson, sales representative for the magazine. San Jacinto Wildlife Plan Gaining Support

A proposed wild life sanctuary in the San Jacinto mountain area was strongly supported in a letter received by the Board of Supervisors this week from Francis J. Johnston of Banning and referred to the parks superintendent and planning commission. Johnston asked the supervisors to give careful thought to both sides of the proposal before making any decision.

"My wife and I have done considerable archaeological survey work for the University of California throughout Riverside County," wrote Johnston.

"On one trip we recorded the site at the Black Mountain YMCA camp. Hunters were all about us and rifles were crackling like a military rifle range. Another time we recorded a petroglyph on the Black Mountain Road. The road was jammed with hunters in and out of cars. Many of these were hunting from their cars. I nearly ran head-on into a pickup with a man standing behind the cab, a heavy rifle aimed just over our heads. Dove feathers littered the road like dust. There seemed to be no effect at law enforcement although a Fish and Game car was parked at the bottom of the road."

The fairs that didn't get anything this year couldn't show the need for state support, Fullenwider said.

FOLLOWING A social hour the group will reconvene for a dinner meeting to hear Annie Gutierrez, of Westmorland in the Imperial Valley and a student at Pomona College, Claremont, describe her recent trip to Russia. Miss Gutierrez, who is a former 4-H Club Diamond Star and National Achievement Award winner, visited Russia under the sponsorship of the National Students Council, YMCA - YWCA Student Exchange Program.

The officers of Group Four are: President, Glenn C. Erickson, vice president, Security - First National Bank, San Diego; First Vice President, Austin W. Ehrman, executive vice president; First ger of the Oasis; Norman Loftus, co-chairman of the Chamber's advertising committee; and, standing from right, Dick Bristol, Southern California and Arizona manager for Sunset, and Howard Wilson, sales representative for the magazine. STATE'S BANKERS WILL MEET HERE

Members of the California Bankers Association in Group Four, comprising Imperial, Orange, Riverside, San Bernardino and San Diego Counties, will hold their spring meeting in Palm Springs on Saturday, May 7.

Group President Glenn C. Erickson, Vice President, Security-First National Bank, San Diego, will preside at the afternoon and evening session in El Mirador Hotel.

THE AFTERNOON session will feature a panel discussion entitled "Public Relations And Business Development At The Local Level."

The panel will be moderated by Rudolph Ostengaard, vice president, California Bank, Los Angeles, and will consist of the following members: Marden A. Herbert, vice president, Security-First National Bank, San Diego; William M. McCullagh, assistant vice president, United States National Bank of San Diego, Pasadena; Alan E. Swinler, vice president, First National Bank of Ontario; and Donald B. Walter, manager, First Western Bank and Trust Company, Garden Grove.

While the bankers attend the afternoon business session, their wives will be entertained at a bridge-tea in the Card Room of the El Mirador.

FOLLOWING A social hour the group will reconvene for a dinner meeting to hear Annie Gutierrez, of Westmorland in the Imperial Valley and a student at Pomona College, Claremont, describe her recent trip to Russia. Miss Gutierrez, who is a former 4-H Club Diamond Star and National Achievement Award winner, visited Russia under the sponsorship of the National Students Council, YMCA - YWCA Student Exchange Program.

The officers of Group Four are: President, Glenn C. Erickson, vice president, Security - First National Bank, San Diego; First Vice President, Austin W. Ehrman, executive vice president; First

KENYON ASKS MINIMUM FARM WAGE

Republican Congressional primary candidate Red Kenyon of Palm Springs called for a federal minimum wage for agriculture in a talk before the board of directors of the Riverside County Farm Bureau Tuesday noon at Riverside.

Kenyon said that California farmers now pay the highest farm labor prices. In fact, he said, in some cases they are paying more than twice that of other areas for the same type of work in the same crops.

The rhinoceros was once the most common and widespread of all land mammals.

The Desert Sun is an independent newspaper dedicated to truth, accuracy and impartiality in the news; to the progress of the desert region; to the support of that which it believes to be right and to the defense of that which it believes wrong.

Were You Counted?

Were you counted?

Judging from the telephone calls received by The Desert Sun during the past two weeks quite a few persons can answer "No."

The count is still going on here, with Census Bureau officials terming it one of the most difficult they have encountered. They found trouble at the start in recruiting personnel, then some they had dropped out. New "counters" were secured at a late date, and they are continuing their door-to-door canvass.

Residents not contacted will have two ways to be sure they were counted.

If you received the original form in the mail and have filled it out, all you need to do is mail it to 1053 La Cadena Drive, Riverside, Calif.

If you did not receive a form, The Desert Sun will carry a replica within the next few days. You may clip it, fill it out and mail it to the same address.

It's important that one of these two methods be followed. Palm Springs needs a full count to receive complete state refunds given on a population basis.

And it's also a matter of community pride. The greatest growth possible should be shown by a rapidly expanding city—the World's Foremost Desert Resort—and an equally expanding area.

Undelivered Letters

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Hon. Lyndon Johnson, Senate Office Building, Washington, D. C.: You did what I've never known to be done before—a politician thanking a writer for praising two other men. Your letter said you appreciated the memorial piece I did on the late Senators Neuberger and O'Conor, and what I'm getting to is this—no wonder so many people like LBJ!

Not long ago a friend of mine, C. L. Cloeslooker, the research man, commented that the pulse-takers, not the poll-takers, would forecast this Presidential election. Then there was that nursery rhyme about why the lamb loved Mary so. Wasn't it because Mary loved the lamb? It wouldn't surprise me if the winning chant of 1952-56, "I like Ike," didn't turn up in the new form of "I like Lyndon." You have a tough time getting elected in this country—eh, Dewey—if people just plain don't like you.

HON. ROBERT MORRIS, Point Pleasant, N. J.: You have been trying to explain away your defeat by Senator Clifford Case in the Republican primary, and I wish you would just grin and say: "Well, I got licked." To blame it on the perfidy of other politicians, on last-minute "smears" and on unconscionable columnists is not helpful to your cause and it tags you as a poor loser.

Had I lived in New Jersey, I would have voted for you, and I still think there is much work for you to do as a conservative writer and speaker. But it's obvious that Jersey Republicans prefer Clifford Case as their Senator.

AT THIS WRITING, you have not congratulated the victor, nor redeemed the implied promise at your Washington press conference.

ference to unite behind the GOP winner, not yet swallowed the galling lump of defeat.

You publicly complained about the writers who did you wrong, but you have no kind word for some of us who for years have, within honor and truth, given your side of it. I'm going to like it better when you follow the poet's advice: "Be loyal to the royal in yourself."

HON. LEVERETT Saltonstall, Senate Office Building, Washington, D. C.: That's a good profile of political courage you are showing in re USS Springfield.

The story may not be known outside him. By withholding your side the Boston area, but it should be.

Back in early March, with the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Yard at Quincy strike-bound, the U. S. Navy announced that it was counting on delivery of the missile-hurling Springfield for duty this summer in the Mediterranean. You appealed to Labor and Management to get on with the national Defense work, regardless of their differences.

FOR SIX WEEKS of grace, you gave your considerable prestige as a member of the Armed Services Committee and a senior Republican to the Navy's position—and the Springfield was moved to the Boston Navy Yard for completion.

For his part, the Vice President's backers tell me that he did not welcome your withdrawal last December. He would much rather have tangled openly with you in the primaries or at the Convention. But this phantom fight is not a satisfactory test of strength. Nixon told the American Society of Newspaper Editors that he is an "economic conservative." He said that matters of social legislation are too important to leave to the radicals. Nixon knows, and says with conviction, that the improvement of living standards in Asia, Africa and Latin America is vital to the interests of this nation.

WELL, THESE are things which you might say in almost the same words. There is not really the difference between you and Nixon that is often represented. If he does fall off the precipice, you have a certain responsibility. One way to make the Vice President's popularity zoom would be for you to en-conditions, I don't suppose there here a new recipe which I would not want to try myself but which I will gladly pass along to any adventurous chefs in the audience.

DICK WEST:

'Depression Salad'

The dish is called "depression salad." Under current economic esting the chickweed, gather a will be too much demand for it.

But it might be a good thing to file away for future reference. One never knows.

ANYWAY, THE FIRST thing you do is go out in the yard and pick a couple of clumps of chickweed. If you don't have any chickweed growing in your lawn, I'll be happy to send you some.

While you're in the yard harvesting the chickweed, gather a few sprigs of wild onions and several bunches of dandelion greens. If my yard is any indication, there will be a bumper crop of wild onions and dandelions this year.

NOW YOU HAVE all the ingredients for "depression salad," which, if you can afford it, can be served with an oil and vinegar dressing. If things are really rough, you don't have to stop with the salad course.

The Geographic tells us there are all sorts of ways to free-load on mother nature. Cattails, for instance, are virtually a lunch in themselves.

IT ALSO SUGGESTS chilled cat-brier sprouts, bread made of seeds of cow lilies and candied wild ginger, adding that "wild-food experts still consider the unrolled fronds of ostrich fern a choice treat when served on toast with a cream sauce."

This should give you enough dishes for a seven-course dinner. Enjoy yourself, but please don't invite me.

HOLLYWOOD—That just HAD to be a record (not the spinning kind) last Tuesday (April 26) when Jack Paar paid Keely Smith $7,500 apiece for singing a chorus each of "All Or Nothing At All" and "Misty" for a gorgeous grand total of $15,000. Paar, incidentally, seemed to be "fly-catching" all over the tube while Keely was singing, spraying mist on her while she moaned "Misty," but I didn't feel that he stole any scenes from the singin', swingin' Smith gal.

Those words spoken by Keely

—the ones drowned out by the music "accidentally—on-purpose"—referred to the Paar-Winchell feud. If you couldn't hear them, here they are: "Now look here, Jack—Walter isn't gonna like thisssss!"

REMEMBER EVELYN Venable, one-time Hollywood star, TV actress Madge Cleveland attended last week's Shakespeare Festival at UCLA and tells me she ran into Evelyn out there, charming as ever, but teaching now—Prof. Venable, no less. And the classes conducted by this very pretty Prof. are in Latin and Greek.

I looked in at Warner-TV specifically to see Troy Donahue's leading lady in his new picture, "Parrish," which starts shooting after Troy slams through several segments of his new series, "Surfside Six." The young lady is Sharon Hugueny. She's 16, sweet and SOCKO and if this reads like a commercial for her, it is.

GEORGE BURNS' buddies all call him Nat (his real name), so I sent him a newspaper clipping about the 74-year-old actor, Nat Burns, who played the role of Old Lord Tintot in Sir James M. Barrie's "The Little Minister" in 1910 and is now flying out to make a comeback in the same part. George wrote back: "This must be another Nat Burns because I didn't fly in 1910 and I'm not flying now and I'm not 74 but when I am 74 I'll still be singing 'Red Nose Rag'!"

QUESTION: Is Dick Clark dumb? Answer (mine): I don't think so. He WANTED to be first called to the stand in the "payola proba." Dick's psychology:

If he were last up, he might have to "bear the brunt of the mounting tension" over all the accused who preceded him on the stand. Oh, brother, how times have changed since Larry Parks "went on first" during the House Un-American Activities probe of Communism among the actors of Hollywood! (It ruined, as you may remember, Larry's career, even though he has long since renounced the Party and all its Lines).

That all-time, all-important Hollywood problem—more important here than the Korean problem, Presidential campaigns and desegregation put together—is popping again. Billing, of course. As in which star will get top billing in "Breakfast at Tiffany's," Audrey Hepburn or Tony Curtis. Agents for both stars are demanding it: Audrey's "because it's a woman's story," Tony's "because he's a bigger boxoffice draw than Audrey."

ED SWANSON, GUITARIST, and proprietor of the Green Lantern Cafe in Cathedral City—which he emphatically announces "... is not a beatnik establishment"—strums guitar and sings Calypso melodies while impromptu entertainers from the audience help him along

NO 'BEATNIK' TAG FOR GREEN LANTERN

By CHUCK WHEELER

CATHEDRAL CITY — The man said "slooo Barlevento" and then impulsively added "folk songs, sea chants, you know?" Then he chuckled.

Ed Swanson, proprietor of the Green Lantern Coffee House in Cathedral City, was explaining the type of music he and his impromptu entertainers present to his public nightly.

"HERE, WE'LL GIVE a demonstration," he said. His songs told of the South Seas, mountainous country, the African veldt, whisked you away to Singapore, New York, Bangkok and Europe.

Good reason, too! Swanson, somewhat of a soldier of fortune, has traveled the world over and learned more about its culture through studying songs of each country.

These he sings nightly at the coffee house, which he emphatically proclaims "... is not a beatnik establishment."

IN FACT, SWANSON solemnly declares, he cannot understand the confusion in the minds of Americans in letting the beatnik craze overcome their good judgment.

ment in labeling every coffee house or unusual cafe "a beatnik joint."

"We are far from being a beatnik joint," Swanson says, explaining that beatniks do not work and cater to others of that ilk. Some of the names of Swanson's customers belong to well known businessmen, models, show people and the youth of our nation. Parents who hear their teenage sons and daughters talk about the Green Lantern sometimes become curious and have to accompany their brood to the establishment.

THERE, THEY TOO, tap their feet to calypso songs and drink cappuccino, or perhaps chocolate, while others might prefer espresso coffee, cinnamon coffee topped with whipped cream or one of the house specialties.

They can play cards, checkers or chess if they feel in the gambling mood, while listening to songs of the sea, calypso rhythms, exotic drums or folk songs and ballads.

"It's a place to go for the young folk to relax, and they do," Swanson comments, explaining that anyone is welcome.

THE LANTEHN'S DECOR is oriental with seating on cushions at low coffee tables and also on chairs at standard-sized tables for those who do not prefer the oriental style of seating.

Besides live entertainment Swanson becomes a disc jockey and presents the best in recorded folk music.

A former student at University of Southern California, Swanson is a native Californian, born in Los Angeles. He has settled in the desert in an area he likes "very much in order to get the salt water out of my system."

FUN IN THE SUN

Bobbi Parker -- WOW!

By GEORGE LAINE

It's a little bit early to tell but off her initial performances in the Little Club of the Hilltop Room here, it figures that Miss Bobbi Parker may turn into the Village's summer sensation.

The chanteuse has looks, style—and above all else—impact.

MOST PERFORMERS will tell you that the bane of entertainers are those dinner shows.

"How can you compete with a filet or prime rib?" quiered Milton Berle, during his stay here. Other performers, like Lena Horne, order that no serving be done while they're on stage.

But Miss Parker met the challenge full steam ahead last night, and, I thought, handled the Hilltop diners with aplomb and taste.

WHAT'S MORE, she did it with a pair of accompanists she had never even seen prior to yesterday. And even that major deterrent to polish seemed to pale when she opened up.

You'll have to like her taste in tunes. She does the good ones—like "Gypsy In My Soul" and "Getting to Be a Habit With Me"—and also deals out some attention-compelling special material. (Her "Tea in Chicago" workout was about as cleverly done as anything that happened around here all season.)

It's not the tune selection, however, that makes Bobbi Parker exceptional. It's her handling of those tunes.

SHE SCARCELY had time to let the black curtain drop behind her following her dinner set before Hilltop diners stopped cutting up entrees and started carving on Miss Parker.

They compared her with Lena—favorably and unfavorably—and they talked about her backing and they, well—you know how club crowds are.

The thing that impressed me was the fact that everyone seemed to have a definite reaction.

FOR MYSELF, I'd have to say that the girl is impressive. I admire her taste in music and I admire her taste in gowns.

But the thing that really flipped me was the voices I heard within the Parker voice. Every vocal talent is the net result of what they've heard and what they've learned. I would gamble with you here and now that Bobbi Parker—I still have to meet the girl—listened for great periods of time to a singer named Billie Holiday. There is that much of a Holiday phrasing to her voice. There is also a flock of Carmen McRae and maybe just a dash of Ella.

I didn't hear anything that sounded like Lena from Miss Parker although I'll have to admit that some of her gestures and movements are similar.

TONIGHT SHE'LL have her bongo player with her—he got hung up in transit—and the picture should resolve when she gets some fundamental rhythms going behind her. (I'm going back for a second look, anyway.)

Lumped together in one huge entertainment bill by Pappy Landfield are Bobbi mariachi Raul and Gustavo and an inordinately tasty pianist named Frank Perry.

The lineup is solid and substantial—so is the Hilltop food—and Villagers out to be tickled to death with their romps to the South Palm Canyon club for at least a while.

All musicians in this show are native Hawaiian born.

ALSO TO BE FEATURED is Archie Kahau, and Japanese songs he has made famous.

Another feature will be the steel guitar artistry of Ernest Tavares, the instrument he invented, designed and built. He is also an arranger and song writer. Fred Tavares, recording star, both classic and modern, will present a different type of guitar entertainment.

'Life's Like Checkers'

Ellis Charms Rotarians

By CHUCK WHEELER
CATHEDRAL CITY — If ever an audience was held spellbound by a speaker, the audience of Cathedral City's Rotary Club Friday at Laurye's Steak Ranch was when it listened to C. Ronald Ellis.

Ellis of 1280 San Jacinto Way, Palm Springs, presented a unique entertainment.

WITH CHECKERS and board, the checkers magnetized to the board, Ellis illustrated philosophic concepts by basic methods as disclosed in the game of checkers.

For an example, Ellis said that mathematics is the only "true science." He said further, in likening checkers to mathematics, that in a game of checkers you cannot recover that which is lost, showing how the rules of checkers are basic to life.

"Two and two is four," Ellis explained, showing it to be an irrefutable law and pointing out that in checkers when you make a move, it is as in life, you either take the right move or the wrong move.

"CHESS IS different," Ellis said, explaining that in chess it is just a matter of taking the wrong road and getting off it onto the right one.

Ellis said checkers is more like life because when you have to "jump" in checkers it is like coming to a precipice of life, if you don't jump you lose a checker. He explained that in life many problems can be solved by the basic methods of a checker board. In life, Ellis said, as in checkers, Ellis said, as in life, "you have to give."

AS AN EXAMPLE, he cited a young married couple that lived for each other and gave all they had each day, thus creating a harmonious life. Then, he cited a couple that constantly found something wrong with each other, stating that they did not have a happy marriage.

Employers, employees and labor boards and unions can settle problems much in the same way one plays checkers, Ellis said.

Another interesting point Ellis made was that there are more than a trillion moves that can be made with seven blocks.

"SO," SAID ELLIS, "how many moves do you suppose could be made on a checker board?"

Ellis, who has had Norman Vincent Peale as a speaker at various clubs in the desert, said that human beings should take a wide view of a problem and that each person's problem has as many "moves" open as a problem on a checker board.

Ellis said that Paul Brackmeier, former executive director of RCA, now retired, urged Ellis to take his checker board, checkers and philosophy to a television series which Brackmeier would arrange for coast to coast hookup.

THE CIVIC - MINDED Ellis, who is interested in scientific subjects, recently contacted the U.S. Olympic Committee and Olympic Association with a plan for raising funds.

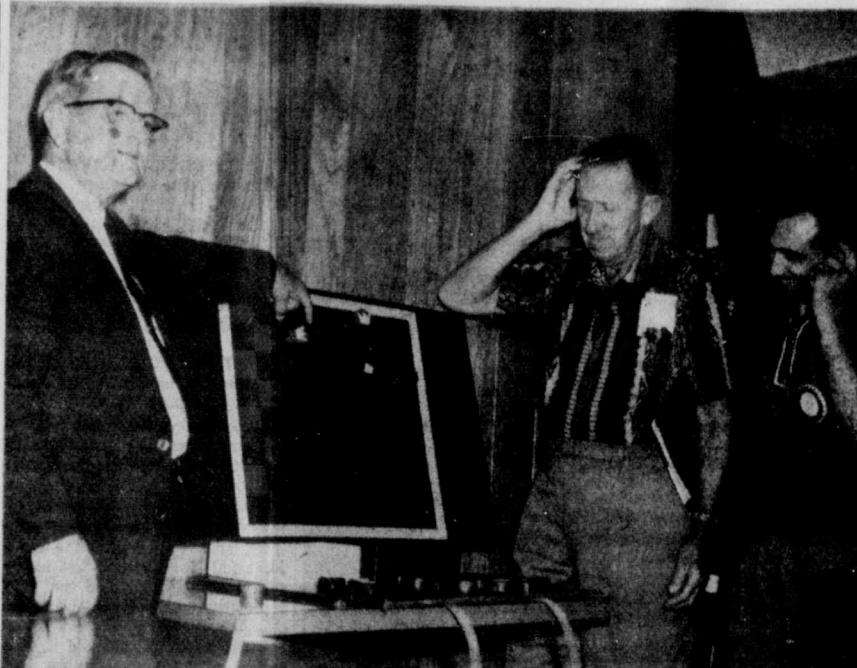

Under the funds, school children, from first grade through college, would be asked every leap year to contribute a nickel. Ellis said there are 40,000,000 school children.

No Secrets From Him

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI) — Earl Davenport became interested in handwriting as a small boy. At 5, he discovered that "Santa" was his mother through her handwriting.

Davenport now is a recognized handwriting authority here.

A house that cost $7,500 to build in 1941 would cost approximately $18,500 to duplicate this year, according to building specialists of Allied Chemical's Barrett Division. That represents an increase of about 135 per cent in 19 years.

C. RONALD ELLIS, left, past president of Palm Springs Rotary, explains that life can be likened to a game of checkers, illustrating philosophic concepts by basic methods as revealed in the game of checkers. Here Ed Smith, outgoing Rotary president of Cathedral City, and S. J. Croce, incoming vice president, look puzzled at Ellis' explanations. (Desert Sun Photo)

Prices Off on Paris Jaunt

By JEAN PATANE

Off on another summer tour, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Price left Saturday via Air France left over the polar route, and are now in Paris. Next week they will be in Rome. There they plan to buy a car and visit the major cities and the remote villages of Italy for the next three months. Then to Germany and Austria where Price hopes to travel the Danube River from the mouth to the source to gather material for a future book. Price, whose travel books have been translated into many languages, traveled the Thames River, the mighty Mississippi and the Hudson Rivers on assignments for National Geographic. The Danube venture will not be an assignment. If visas are granted to the Prices, their travels on the Danube will take them behind the Iron Curtain into Yugoslavia, Czechoslovakia, Bulgaria and Rumania. They will attend the Salzburg Festival, the Passion Play in Oberammergau, and other cultural and musical events taking place during their five months abroad. Upon their return in October, Mr. and Mrs. Price will start their fifteenth year as residents of Cathedral City.

Last week Mr. and Mrs. Guy Staiger entertained with a luncheon at their Arden Drive home, honoring the birthdays of her brothers, Bliss Dallas and Glen Whitney. It was also a farewell gesture as the Dallas and Whitneys left Sunday to spend the summer at their homes in Corvallis, Ore.

The Whitneys spent the winter at De Luxe Titler Park, and Mr. and Mrs. Dallas have a summer home on Palo Verde Drive in Sunair. Joining in "Happy Birthday" wishes and "Au Revoir" were Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Gerhardt, Martha Wheeler and Mrs. Dallas and Mrs. Whitney.

Members of the Ten-Twenty Club met last week at the Paradise Way home of Mrs. Doris LeClair. With the season drawing to a close, it was agreed that the final meeting would be a dinner with the time and place to be decided upon later. Birthday greetings were extended to the hostess, and to Mrs. Betty Dunne during the evening of canasta. The homemade cake decorated with the inscription "Ten-Twenty Club" in frosting, was served to members Mmes. Gayle Ziegler, Twila Hand, Evelyn Williams, Kay Duzbury, Betty Hall and guest Nita Phelps. Game prizes were won by Kay Duzbury, Betty Dunne and Gayle Ziegler.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Clark returned last Wednesday night from a five day visit to the Oregon Cactus Monument south of Ajo and in Tucson and Phoenix.

Win City of Hope Awards

Palm Springs Auxiliary of the City of Hope has just won top national honors in the recent membership drive of the Medical Center's far-flung auxiliaries. Nearly 400 chapters across the country support the medical facility's fight against catastrophic diseases.

Mrs. Henry Epstein, of 765 N. Paseo de Anza, president of the local chapter, was presented with a specially engraved foil volume by the City of Hope Board of Directors to symbolize the group's achievement as one of the nation's five leading chapter membership builders.

Abe Schwartz, a Palm Springs auxiliary member, of 1108 Marion Way, received an engraved Torch of Hope award for his individual record as banner recruiter of members. Only five people in the nation were awarded this recognition.

Under the leadership of Mrs. Epstein, the Palm Springs Chapter has forged into prominence in the City of Hope Auxiliary family. The spectacular growth and increase in activity of the group has played a vital part in the continued expansion of the free nonsectarian Medical Center.

With the support of the vast network of auxiliaries, the City of Hope has come a long way from humble beginnings in 1915 with two tents on ten acres of desert land near Los Angeles. Begun as an attempt to give free care to tuberculosis sufferers, regardless of race or creed, the National Medical Center, today, stands on 95 landscaped acres in Duarte, California with the most advanced facilities and equipment to give not only free medical care, but to explore catastrophic illness — cancer, the leukemias, blood, chest, operable heart diseases and certain hereditary disorders.

It is this research perspective that has earned the City of Hope the designation of "pioneering" medical center. From its near half-century of relentless effort against man's major afflictions has come pioneering approaches such as the Parent Participation Program, which encourages mothers and fathers to take an active part in the daily care of their own stricken children. Youngsters — most of them fatally ill — thus receive the one "medicine" which no scientist can synthesize — the morale which only a parent can give. Alongside such a program stands the City of Hope's compact radioactive cobalt "bomb" — a powerful tool to combat deep-seated cancer. The very atmosphere around this radiotherapy weapon emphasizes the humanitarian philosophy of the Medical Center — there is no door to shut the patient off from the world.

It is such "little" things that dramatize the work of the City of Hope. It is a program of more than 100 current research projects at the Medical Center's Medical Research Institute, and a soon-to-be-launched Institute for Advanced Learning in the Medical Sciences that set its direction in probing toward the eventual defeat of catastrophic diseases.

It is for this cause that the thriving Palm Springs Chapter of the City of Hope sponsors a series of events and activities. A growing number of Palm Springs residents are participating in the chapter's full-schedule.

Because of people like Mrs. Epstein and Abe Schwartz, the City of Hope is able to sustain a unique program of free and nonsectarian medical care, research and medical education.

AERIAL VIEW of City of Hope National Medical Center located on 95 landscaped acres in the desert near Los Angeles, California. Free and nonsectarian, the City of Hope Medical Center and its affiliated Research Institute conducts a relentless search for new insights in to the treatment and conquest of the physically and financially catastrophic diseases. Dedicated to the service of humanity, the City of Hope offers care without charge to patients from all parts of the country, of all races and creeds.

Hold Annual Donor Dinner

Regional director Rose Walders brought greetings from the National City of Hope Sunday night, when the Palm Springs Chapter of City of Hope held its annual Donor Dinner at El Mirador Hotel, with several hundred people in attendance.

Praising the efforts of the Palm Springs Chapter which is only in its third year, Mrs. Walders told how they have helped to make it possible for City of Hope to make major advances in cancer research. Highlighting the evening was the presentation of a special award to Abe Schwartz for bringing in the greatest number of auxiliary members in the nation. Other special awards were presented to Dr. and Mrs. George Gillman, Mr. and Mrs. David Slatin and Sophie Goodman.

Mrs. Harry Epstein, president of the Chapter, welcomed the many guests among whom were Mr. and Mrs. Voight, president of the San Bernardino Chapter, City of Hope. Also welcomed were Mr. and Mrs. Louis Grobstein and Fay Brown.

Bess Matloff, chairman of ways and means, also extended a welcome to the many guests and thanked her committee Gene Burten, Pearl Hess, Raye Gholstien, Marie Horwitt, Zilda Jaffa, Marion Schwartz, Tillie Rosenbaum and Bea Wittenberg.

Matilda Barsha, well known concert pianist, presented Shirley Mills, vivacious musical comedy personality, who gave an outstanding performance, and Arthur Ross Jones, lyric tenor, who has been featured many times in the Hollywood Bowl, received much applause.

Installation of officers for the ensuing year is scheduled for the evening of May 10th at the Jewish Community Center.

Sid Caesar Guest

Heston Career Boosted by TV

If it hadn't been for television, Charlton Heston might not be in the enviable position he's in today.

This position, as a goodly portion of the world knows, is at the top of the show business ladder, where Heston is firmly perched as a result of winning an Oscar for his performance in the movie "Ben Hur."

BUT IT WAS Heston's appearances on television that first opened Hollywood's doors to this tall, ruggedly handsome actor back in 1949, and Heston has repeatedly expressed his gratitude to the medium in interviews as well as by his eagerness to perform on television whenever film commitments permitted.

One of these performances will take place on Thursday, May 5, when Heston will be guest star in Sid Caesar's hour-long comedy special, "Tiptoe Through TV" on the CBS Television Network (10-11 p.m.).

"I STARTED IN television back in 1948," Heston recalls, "at what turned out to be a most opportune moment. At that time, you know, the motion picture companies didn't want their stars to appear on television, and the salaries paid television performers weren't high enough to attract many of the established stage stars.

"So it was to people like me, out-of-work actors with a few legitimate stage and stock roles to their credit, that television offered jobs."

HESTON BECAME practically a one-man stock company under the tutelage of Worthington Miner, who was then producer of the Heston played widely varied roles in such productions as "Jane Eyre," "Wuthering Heights," "Of Human Bondage," "The Taming of the Shrew," "Shadow and Substance," "Battleship Bismarck," and many others.

His outstanding performances caught the eye of movie producer Hal Wallis and a seven-year contract resulted.

HESTON MADE his move debut in "Dark City," and in subsequent films moved steadily up through the ranks to his current top-man spot as winner of the Academy Award as best actor of the year.

Although Heston is usually identified in the public mind with dramatic roles, his upcoming appearance in Sid Caesar's comedy program is not his debut in this sort of show.

"BACK IN THE days when Sid was starring in the 'Show of Shows' series," Heston says, "I played in three of them with him. All of them, I remember, were satires on foreign films, and were great fun to do — and to watch, I might add."

In "Tiptoe Through TV," one of the sequences is a spoof of a Japanese movie, in which Caesar is a Japanese blacksmith. Audrey M. is a lovely Nipponese maid, and Heston a playboy prince looking for a bride.

"It's just like old times," grins Heston happily, "and still great fun."

AIR HERO FACES DIVORCE COURT

A long-suffering mother of three sues her too-much-absent air hero husband for divorce, claiming his career as a soldier of fortune leaves him no time for home and family during KTTV's "Divorce Court," Thursday, May 5, 8 p.m., Channel 11.

A wife, who insists she wants a husband, not a newspaper headline, sues to end her marriage to a much-decorated combat pilot, who discloses he is a hero to everyone but his own family.

JUDGE PERKINS painstakingly sifts the "airy" statements flying around his courtroom — particularly in regard to the chief victims of any divorce action, the three children involved in the case — before deciding whether or not to "ground" the marriage.

Bill Welsh is seen as behind-the-scenes commentator, interpreting judge's rulings and discussing testimony heard during the case.

er's Day Contest. He certainly was glad that he didn't have to be a judge! Wow! That was a terrific job because about every entry was so fine! Now if you would just let your mom know how wonderful you think they are often, you would make them very happy. "Honor thy father and mother," now when you are young. When you grow older, you'll never be sorry or feel ashamed about the way you treated, respected, obeyed and loved your mom and dad.

Stories Of the Week

THE HORSE SHOW

By Carol Adams (12)

Nellie Coffman Junior High With a yawn, Penny woke up Saturday morning, jumped out of bed, and made a beeline for the shower. Penny, a pretty girl of 16, with dark black hair, brown eyes, and fair skin was going to be in a horse show. Penny's horse Velvet was a palomino whose coat looked just like her name. Velvet was trained to jump hurdles, and Penny had been practicing for weeks.

At the stables Velvet first faulted and wouldn't jump, but soon she was making every jump perfectly. Then, as the people gathered in the stands, Velvet grew nervous. The man in the stand called Penny's name and she knew now that was the big moment. Would Velvet fault again and be disqualified? Or would she make it?

Turning and making a run for the hurdle, Velvet made a clean jump, and as she came to the rest she also made clean jumps. As Penny left the ring, she could hear the applause ringing in her ears.

After the other horses had made their jumps, the man in the stand called first prize for Penny. So Penny went home with a blue ribbon and a smile.

THE BIG BROWN COW By John Layson (7)
67060 Santa Barbara Drive
Palm Springs

There was a big brown cow. It lived on a farm. The farmer who owned her had to milk her too. The owner sells the milk to the store. The man who owns the store sells the milk to the people. Every day the farmer milks the cows and sells the milk to the store.

MY BOAT By Siri Postvedt (6)

My boat is blue and red. It can go fast. It is pretty. It is fun to play with. I like it too.

MRS. GOOSE By Gary Frank (8)

550 North Caballera Road
Palm Springs

One day Mrs. Goose was going to the market. Mr. Gobbler owned the store. He just put up a sign that day. The sign said, "Help Yourself," so Mrs. Goose went in and took a head of cabbage and two pounds of butter. Then she walked out. Mr. Gobbler said, "What are you doing?" "You have a sign that says, 'Help yourself,'" said Mrs. Goose, "so I did." The end.

HELP MRS. HILL find her house.—By Timothy Smith (8), 31-069 San Gabriel Circle, Palm Springs.

WEEK'S REPORTER

QUEEN OF GOLD

OUR FOURTH GRADE had a play Wednesday. It was about early California and the discovery of gold. When it was over, everybody in our class sang "I Love You, California." Then we had a square dance to show one way the people who came to California had fun. We made a gold throne and some paper poppies for our stage scenery.—By Pete Saldivar (11), 988 Evelita, Palm Springs, Box 1006.

MRS. LOIS LUX'S 4TH grade room was chosen to sing for the Men's Dinner at the Community Church. There were 15 children there to sing. We sang "For the Beauty of the Earth," "Who Did?" and other songs. We sang in March on a Monday. The children who sang are Susan R., Laura P., Judy, Barbara, Joe, David Vogt, David and other girls and boys. We had a good time, and everyone enjoyed our singing. Susan Hegwood (10), 905 Calle Paul, Palm Springs.

Tomorrow's Citizens

By ANDY CONNORS (8)

Hi! I have a special holiday. Oct. 28 is not special to you, but it is to me. Yep, I was born on Oct. 28, 1951. Tell me some more! O.K., well, I do not have any brothers or sisters. I think I'm lucky. Hum! Hum! I have seven cousins. I have one grandfather. I have two uncles and two aunts. Don't go away. I want to tell you some more. Let's see! I like to go swimming. Yes, and I want to be a veterinarian, which means a dog keeper. Yes, sir! Guess what? That's what. That's a joke. I have visited most of the United States, but I like Disneyland the best. Don't go away. My favorite on television is Bat Masterson, and my favorite on radio is Amos and Andy. They talk very funny. In the movies I liked all the actors in Journey to the Center of the Earth. Ho hum, I do not have any girl friends, but I have one boy friend, Rickey M. Now don't go yet! I play tag everywhere. At school my favorite activity was the play "Let's Play Indian." In school I like to read books. Come on, please just a little bit more! The most outstanding thing in my life was when my mother said, "You can read harder books than your grade books. Well, that's all. Goodby."

CC Schoolkids 'Build' Replicas Of Cal Missions

An unusual display of five class-made replicas of early California missions is on exhibit in the fourth grade class at Cathedral City elementary school. Built under the direction of teacher Miss Betty Ludwick, the five famous missions were cut out of cardboard boxes, and painted with a mixture of flour, salt and powdered calcimine. Silver Christmas bells decorate the towers.

The mission models and their builders are: San Juan Batista—Randy Roos, chairman of the project; Cristy Clark, Norman Johnson, Sherry Young, and Brenda Betts; San Diego Mission—Bobby Bernard, chairman; Leslie Dikes, Roy Ward, Janis Everts, and Karen Groves; Santa Barbara Mission—Marie Brietzke, chairman; Jimmy Warren, Rosedith Marx, Karen Karuzich, John Addessi, and Victoria Harris; San Juan Capistrano—Cecilia Manthy, chairman; Davis Walker, Bradley Allen, and Richard Dobbs; Tommy Aitchison, Mary Arriola; San Gabriel Mission—Kay Culver, chairman; Perry Jacobs, Ronnie Hall, Donna Boland, and Geary Icardy.

Miss Ludwick explained the project was the culmination of a month's study on the early history of California. "It enabled us to combine reading, English, writing, spelling, art and even arithmetic (in measuring and building the missions) — into one well-integrated project," she said.

Bids Sought for Wardman Wing

DESERT HOT SPRINGS—Bids for construction of the Angel View enactment of law which would hospital A. Wardman Wing will be opened at 7 p.m. Friday, in a public meeting in the AVCC office at 12-379 Mirach Hill Road, president Sam Benton announced.

Approximately requested five bids are expected, Benton said. He explained awarding of contract may be delayed several weeks pending study of the bids.

VILLAGE HORSEMAN RIDE WITH RANCHEROS VISTADORES

Many Palm Springs residents will be among 800 horsemen who will participate in the 1960 Los Rancheros Vistadore ride next week, as they re-live the early California tradition when Rancheros visiting after spring harvest.

IN CALIFORNIA tradition, the Rancheros receive the blessing of the Franciscan padres for their 8-day trek.

The horsemen will spend three nights on the trail — one at the 4-H Camp at the Santa Ynez and two at Santa Cruz Corral where they will participate in a horse show and trap shoot.

MEMBERS AND guests signed for next week's ride will represent all of California and numerous other climes including Florida, Hawaii and New England states.

vang. A second dress parade will march in front of the Mission Santa Inez May 13.

Among Palm Springs men who will take part in the ride will be Mayor Frank Bogert, Ray Ryan, George C. Rasmussen, John F. Boyle, William T. Grant, S. E. Hendersin, Trav Rogers, Shelton Abersold, Rudy F. Heimark, Mark P. Kennedy, John B. Ivey, Dr. Charles G. Fraser and winter residents and visitors Art Linkletter, Edgar Bergen, and Peter Pitchess.

Dear Abby... by Abigail VanBuren

DEAR ABBY: I know a man about 60, and a woman, 50 who have gone together for ten years. Neither has ever been married. He always told her he couldn't marry her because his mother didn't approve. His mother has been dead three years and the situation is still the same.

That man practically lives at her apartment. He picks her up every evening after work and they go marketing together. Then she fixes him supper in her apartment and they watch TV together. He bought her a dog and they call it their "baby." She sees as much of him as I see of my husband—only he goes home nights. Don't you think someone should step in and put a stop to this scandalous way of living?

JUST ASKING

DEAR ASKING: What's so scandalous about it?

DEAR ABBY: I am a 10-year-old girl with a problem. I know that girls are not supposed to run after boys, but if we don't run after them, how are we supposed to catch them?

JAN

DEAR JAN: Girls are not supposed to "catch" boys. Nothing makes a boy run faster than being chased. When you see a boy you like, ignore him. He'll soon wonder what's wrong with him and he'll start chasing you just to prove to himself that he can catch you. Then—you've "caught" him.

DEAR ABBY: I say when a married couple goes out (in a car) with another married couple, each wife should sit with her own husband.

My co-worker says this is definitely MIDDLE - CLASS. She says it is HIGH-CLASS for the wife of one couple to sit with the husband of the other. Also, she says if two women sit together in the back seat while their husbands sit together in the front seat, that is LOW-CLASS. Is there anything to what she says, or am I correct? J.F.

DEAR J. R.: When two married couples go out together, it is always correct for the husband to sit with his own wife. It is never correct for a man to sit with his friend's wife. In cases where the wives are very friendly, and the husbands have a great deal in common, it is permissible for the wives to sit in the back and the husbands in the front.
